

Programs Launcher

Contributed by Terry
Last Updated Tuesday, 15 May 2007

Programs Launcher

Actually I created Programs Launcher to quickly launch many of my security programs (like antivirus, spyware/adware scanner, trojan scanner) all at once so that I can check them for updates without having to manually go to the Start menu or click on the icon on the desktop to run each of them. You can use it to launch any your programs all at once, for example, after you connected to the internet, you may want to launch mIRC client, MSN Messenger, Web Browser and Email client and maybe other programs. You can add them to Programs Launcher so that you can start them all by just clicking on Programs Launcher.